

Counting Cows Game

In a set time the children in the back seat have to count cows on their side of the road.

If you pass a large herd in a field the number counted to is the number given.

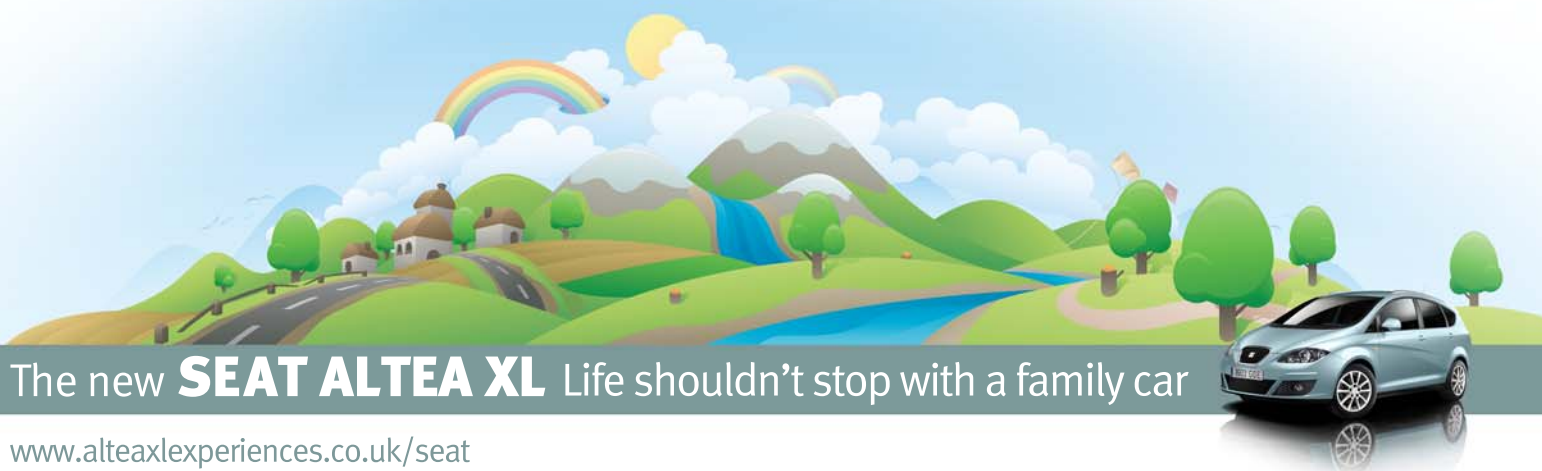

If you pass a cemetery on either side of the road the first child to see it shouts “your cows are dead” this results in the other child losing their cows.

Add bonuses such as if a child sees a white horse then that counts as 10 cows.

If a parent sees a church then this can result in them having to count from the other side until a second church is spotted by the parent.
